SWEET SIXTEEN HONORED

The Misses Olive Wright and Mable Eckles proved dainty hostesses at a most d lightful evening party the latter part of the past week, honoring Miss Agnes Scott, the "birthday child," at the home of Miss Ruth Wright, 49 Ruth street.

The spacious living room, where a splendid musical program of vocal and instrumental selections, and later dancing was enjoyed, was most attractively decorated with tall vases of pink Mammom Cochet roses, while high yellow chrysanthemums were used in profusion throughout the dining room, where at a late hour buffet supper was served.

Guests enjoying the hospitality of these two young ladies and partaking of the pretty birthday cake holding sixteen pink tapers, were the honoree, the Misses Olive P'tman, Mary Vradenburg, Ruby Williamson, Hazel Anderson, Bertha Scott and joint hostesses, Olive Wright and Mable Eckles; the Messrs. Robert Dewar, Alfred G'lthousen, Dudley Pigg, Huntley Ramsey, Em rson Belford, Maurice Jackson, William Rees, Lorraine Stockwell and Harry Chandler. Miss Scott was the recipient of many pretty birthday remembrances and no end of many happy returns of the day.

OFFERS DRINKING FOUNT

Mrs. Charles Hawksford, a prominent member of the Board of Directors of the Humane Society of Los Angeles county, through Mrs. Anna L. Smith of 1427 Riverdale Drive, has approached Mr. T. W. Watson, city manager, with the offer of an artistic drinking fountain for the city, to be installed on Glendale avenue. About $5000 has been provided for the installation of fountains throughout the county. These fountains would provide drinking troughs for horses and other animals, as well as the regular drinking provision for people.

BIG REALTY DEAL

Through the agency of the H. L. Miller Company, Brand Blvd., a realty deal of some magnitude has been put through. This is one of several such deals that have been handled by this enterprising firm recently. This particular transaction is one by which Mr. J. DeWitt Moon of Los Angeles has traded 640 acres, 10 miles from McCook, Neb., and also a 6-room residence at 624 W. 56th St., Los Angeles, for the Fredon residence and site of five acres, owned by J. L. Miller of Eagle Rock. The amount involved in this transaction is $30,000.

CHAIRMAN HONORS COMMITTEE

Pink roses and huge feathery chrysanthemums cut from the William's garden beautified the rooms used when Mr. and Mrs. Menzo Williams dined at high noon the Hospitality Committee of the Tuesday Afternoon Club of which Mrs. Williams is chairman at their home, 1325 North Central avenue.

A delicious turkey dinner together with the good old-fashioned menu was served to Mesdames V. Price Brown, Albert Dow, Harry Peterson, Ella D. Williams, Nellie Williams, Dorothy Dow, Eulalia Richardson and the host and hostess.

Needlework and conversation occupied a portion of the afternoon, being followed by vocal and instrumental numbers rendered by Miss Dow and the Williams sisters.

ORCHESTRA TO GIVE CONCERT

Next Friday evening at 8 o'clock the Glendale Presbyterian orchestra will give a public concert. Miss Eleanor Strong of Los Angeles has been engaged to sing Scotch, Irish and Spanish songs. Everybody is invited to be present. No admission will be charged. The program is as follows:

Part One.—1. Overture—Inspiration, Hayes; 2. Two pieces from "Carneval Venetienne," Burgmeier; (a) Florindo, (b) Rosaura; 3. (a) La Paloma, (b) Yradier; (b) Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms (Old Irish Air), Miss Eleanor Strong; 4. March—The Modern Master, Barnard.

Part Two.—5. Selection from Woodland, Luters; 6. (a) Pulcinello, Aletier; (b) Premier Amour, Benoit; 7. (a) Adagio from "Faust," Gounod; (b) Loch Lomond (Scotch Melody), Miss Eleanor Strong; 8. Songs of the Nation, arr. by Lampe.

IN WORLD CONFERENCE

HEADS OF ALL DIVISIONS OF SEVENTH-DAY ADVENTISTS
TESTIFY TO FAITH

Never before in the history of the Seventh-Day Adventist denomination have so many official heads been gathered together in a meeting for their own spiritual uplift as were present at the service conducted by Elder G. B. Thompson, of Washington, D. C., secretary of the North American Division Conference Saturday morning. The service was especially for the ministers and other workers who have come from all quarters of the globe to attend the joint convention of the World and North American Division Conference committees, which began with a discourse by Elder I. H. Evans, president of the North American Division Conference, Friday night.

In the gathering were the president of the World Conference, the presidents of the North American, European and Asiatic Divisions, the presidents of the union conferences in the United States, Canada, Great Britain, the West Indies and Australasia, the presidents of the state conferences in this country and Canada, the superintendents of the mission fields in India and Mexico, the departmental secretaries in the World and North American Division Conferences, editors of the leading denominational periodicals in North America, the leaders of the literature work on this continent, and also the leading physicians connected with the medical institutions of the Adventists in this country.

Elder Thompson gave a short talk on the ultimate triumph of the second advent message in this generation, and then gave the rest of the time for an old-fashioned experience meeting. Those in the audience were inspired by the testimonies of Elders George I. Butler, of Bowling Green, Fla.; S. N. Haskell, of South Lancaster, Mass.; J. N. Loughborough, of Lodi, Cal.; and J. H. Morrison, of College View, Neb., who embraced the advent doctrine when the denomination was in its infancy, more than half a century ago. All of these men, who are octogenarians, expressed their faith in the consummation of the gospel proclaiming the return of Christ in this generation. There were few dry eyes among those present as these warriors of the church spoke. Many others also expressed their faith in the doctrines they have embraced.

The church was packed to overflowing for the principal service of the day, when Elder A. G. Daniells, of Washington, D. C., president of the World Conference, gave a stirring discourse on "The Finishing of the Gospel in This Generation." Elder Daniells struck the keynote of what will be uppermost in the minds of those who have come from all quarters of the world to take part in the business sessions of the convention, when he said that plans for the finishing of the gospel in this generation must be given the first place of all that is considered.

He declared his firm belief that the message of Christ's coming as proclaimed by Seventh-day Adventists in all parts of the eighty-five countries where they have entered, will be consummated in this present generation. He dwelt on the manner in which the message is being heralded over the heathen countries of China, Japan, Korea, the Philippine Islands, the Malay states and Manchuria, and said that hundreds of men and women who have been won from the lowest depths of heathenism are now sounding the tidings of the soon-coming Savior. He said that he has faith to believe that the doctrine will be proclaimed to every nation, kindred, tongue and people in the lifetime of men and women now on the earth, and urged his hearers to a deeper consecration in the part they are taking toward accomplishing this work.

Speaking of his tour of the South Sea Islands, Australia and the Orient, President Daniells said: "At every landing place on a journey of fifty-five thousand miles, on 20 different steamships, not once did I walk down the gang-plank among entire strangers. At every place where I stepped from the boat I was welcomed by Seventh-day Adventists, and brethren, those people I had never seen before seemed as dear as my own flesh and blood. No American missionary ever entered Manchuria until our four workers went in recently."

Besides all the visiting clergymen and other workers, there were in the audience members of the denomination from Los Angeles, San Francisco and Oakland, San Bernardino, Red-

BRITISH RESENT WILSON'S NOTE

LONDON PRESS COMMENT INDICATES THAT NATION DISAPPROVES PRESIDENT'S PROTEST

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
LONDON, Nov. 8.—With almost one accord the London press comments unfavorably on President Wilson's note to Britain with regard to allied interference with American commerce. As a rule the papers attribute the tone of the note to an attempt to make political capital out of the matter in view of the presidential election.

KAISER SUPPRESSES SOCIALIST PAPER

FEDERAL GRAND JURY FINDS TRUE BILL AGAINST ALLEGED TEUTON BOMB CONSPIRATORS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—The federal grand jury today indicted six alleged German bomb plot conspirators. These men are said to have been implicated in a conspiracy to affix bombs to vessels sailing from the United States with munitions for the allies.

FRENCH LINER ON FIRE AT SEA

STEAMER ROCHAMBEAU IN FLAMES OFF HALIFAX AS RESULT OF WORK OF SPY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—With fifty-seven passengers aboard and a mixed cargo, in which munitions figure, the French liner Rochambeau is afire near Halifax, Nova Scotia. A wireless from Captain Juhan stated that the blaze at present is confined to the rear coal bunkers. Should serious danger develop the captain intends to put in to Halifax. The Rochambeau left New York Saturday, en route to Bordeaux. A bomb was found in a sugar sack in the hold just as the vessel sailed. The present fire is similar to that which broke out on board the liner Touraine some time ago.

WORK OF THE W.C.T.U.

SOUTH DAKOTA OFFICIALS TELL OF CAMPAIGN FOR NATIONAL PROHIBITION

At the home of Mrs. J. A. Quackenbush, 119 E. Colorado Blvd., the regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held Friday p. m. The president called the meeting to order promptly at 2:30 and an earnest prayer service followed, led by Mrs. P. E. Kiem.

The president, Mrs. Smart, took great pleasure in introducing the two famous women, Miss Meade and Mrs. Wallace of South Dakota. Mrs. Smart was formerly a state officer of W. C. T. U. work in South Dakota.

Miss Meade and Mrs. Wallace are both charming and dignified, as well as forceful speakers. Miss Meade gave a brief report of the National W. C. T. U. convention recently held in Seattle. The keynote of this great convention was national constitutional prohibition—the main thought of every speaker was this great measure. The warfare of this organization is for a righteous nation. The harmony that pervaded the entire convention was strongly emphasized and the strong intellects of the women of this great organization, who recognize the fact that after prohibition is adopted the work of the W. C. T. U. has only begun, as the warfare will be continued in the enforcement of the law.

Mrs. Wallace gave a graphic picture of the two special trains carrying officers and hundreds of delegates across the continent to the convention city, Seattle.

The bow of white ribbon is a symbol of recognized good. Many were the ovations given these officers and delegates. Miss Anna Gordon, national president would give short addresses. The special trains were greeted by bands, thousands of school children giving their rally-cry, carrying banners and offering flowers and fruit—as an expression of appreciation for the work done by this great organization, as over eighty per cent of the territory of U. S. is under "dry" rule. At San Francisco the Panama Exposition band greeted the delegation.

The records of the net gain of over 30,000 members proves that the temperance forces are growing rapidly. Three new members were added to our ranks, Mesdames Root, Snudden, Wilson. The hostess served refreshments equal to a banquet.

The meeting adjourned to meet at the home of Mrs. J. E. Paul, 533 Orange street, Nov. 19. Another important meeting will be held, Mrs. Law, one of California's talented women, will be present to speak.

THE BEAMONS ENTERTAIN

One of the most charmingly planned affairs of the week was that with which Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Beamon of Jackson street entertained the "Jolly Sixteen" Club at a perfectly appointed seven o'clock dinner on Saturday evening.

Thanksgiving day was brought to mind when the clever conceits in placecards bearing turkeys were discovered.

The elegantly set table bore a huge low mound of feathery yellow chrysanthemums as a center arrangement, the same flower being used throughout the other rooms.

After dinner the usual card game of 500 was enjoyed, scores being kept upon more turkeys. With chosen sides the club plays a series of games the losers entertaining with a theater party.

At the end of a close game a Spanish supper was served at the small card tables to Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Beach, Mr. and Mrs. V. Price Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Parker, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Will Truitt, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Hinkle, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Clemens of Tropico substituting for Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Mandes and the gracious host and hostess.

GLENDALE GARDEN SOCIETY

Anybody joining the Glendale Garden Society this week (annual dues only 25 cents) will be presented with a dozen young plants of annual larkspur. These plants grow tall and bear prolific spikes of white, pale pink, blue and lavender blossoms. They are very hardy, bloom for a long season, require but little care; for filling unsightly corners and hiding ugly walls they cannot be excelled. They are splendid for cutting and lend themselves to all kinds of artistic treatment. Apply to Mrs. Nanno Woods, Headquarters, 1111 W. Broadway, next to Pacific Electric Depot.

WEATHER FORECAST—Fair tonight; cloudy Tuesday, west winds.

FAMOUS TENOR

TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB MUSIC SECTION SECURES CONSTANTINO FOR CHARITY CONCERT

Like the famous Spanish violinist Sarasate the renowned tenor Signor Florencio Constantino has a warm heart for little children and is always ready to go out of his way to help them. Knowing this charming trait of the great singer's character Mrs. E. W. Kinney, curator of the Music Section, approached Signor Constantino with the request that he devote some of his valuable time to helping the cause of the Children's Hospital. The tenor, whose reputation as a singer puts him in the very front of his profession, graciously consented—for the sake of the children.

Glendale will thus be privileged to hear at its own doors this musical genius whose interpretations of song are a source of great pleasure to all intelligent lovers of music. Signor Constantino will give a concert at the Palace Grand Theater, Friday, Nov. 26.

Those who have never heard this consummate artist should embrace this opportunity to hear him. The concert will be under the auspices of the Tuesday Afternoon club. The proceeds will go to the hospital. Signor Constantino giving his service free. Those who have already had the pleasure of hearing this artist will be glad to have another opportunity to listen to his melodious notes. The program is being prepared under the supervision of Signor Constantino and will be announced later.

In view of the large attendance that is practically assured, it will be advisable to make reservations early. Tickets will soon be on sale at the Palace Grand Theater and also at the principal stores in Glendale, Hollywood and Pasadena. They may also be obtained from any member of the Music Section of the Tuesday Afternoon club and from Mrs. Kinney, the music curator.

GHOSTS REVEL

Autumn colors and foliage, subdued lights and ghosts sound interesting and so it was for Miss Lillian Leppelen's guests who assembled at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Leppelen at 1457 Milford street on Saturday evening.

Those bidden were ushered in without word and the games of silence and mystery afforded no end of amusement. At an early hour all masks were removed when dancing and music were enjoyed until the merrymakers were signaled to the dining room where an elaborate buffet supper was served.

Guests responding to this delightful young hostess's invitation were the Misses Gladys Bonson, Frances Payne, Alice McCoy, Grace Beach, Mary Jane Evans, Emily Kercher, Katherine Lord, Julia Wilkins, Esther Sinclair, Dorothy Hobbs and Barbara Mitchell, the Messrs. Sidney Simon, John Dewar, Angelino Gossman, Richard Burck, Montgomery Coole, Louis Coole, Harry Pidebohl, Walter Stafford, Francis McMannis, Jim Henry Elise and Fred Farnar.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB

At the regular meeting of the Tuesday Afternoon club, Tuesday, Nov. 9, at 2:30 in the Masonic Temple, a program of unusual interest will be presented. The musical part of the program will be particularly pleasing consisting of violin numbers by Mr. Cecil Crandall, the talented young violinist of Glendale, who will play several compositions by leading masters and probably some of his own compositions. Mme. Norma Rockhold Robbins will give a most interesting study of a group of "Comparative Songs."

The literary part of the program will be furnished by the Los Angeles Center of the Drama League of America. At the opening of this season, the Tuesday Afternoon Club took a membership in the Drama League and the League now furnishes this entertainment. Mrs. Benjamin Goldsman, one of the directors of the Los Angeles Center will speak on the drama and in connection with her lecture will read Barrie's play "Rosalind." Mrs. Goldsman has been chairman of the drama committee of the Friday Afternoon club, for several years. She is a dramatic critic of wide knowledge and reads only the best plays. All members of the club are urged to be present on this occasion as the entertainment will be of the highest order.

Do not throw newspapers and scraps of paper on the public streets. Cultivate the habit of being neat and tidy.

EXIGENCIES OF A BIG EMPIRE

Both the United States and Britain know what the exigencies of foreign empire are. The United States has been policing the Philippine Islands ever since their acquisition from Spain. It is now well into the second decade since the war with Spain gave over the Philippines to the United States and this country has had a constant fight ever since to keep them in order. One of the first things this country had to do was to cast out the herd of grafters and exploiters of the natives who swarmed into the islands from the United States. The next was to teach the natives the American language and American styles of thought.

At first things seemed to be difficult. There was the difficulty of the Spanish priests and the Friars' lands to overcome. The Spanish priests were replaced by American priests and the Friars' lands taken over at a proper valuation; but still the lands remain a trouble. Even to this hour there are risings of the natives that must be dealt with and put down with a high and firm hand. Every now and then a dato or native chief thinks it does not comport with his dignity to pay tribute to the foreigner and takes to his native jungle, kragjorgensen in hand, for the natives have the faculty of getting possession of arms somehow. If they can't get an old kragjorgensen they will find some other make such as a Mauser and with a supply of cartridges will terrorize the neighborhood and raise no end of trouble for the unfortunate American local commander of the small detachment of troops that is guarding the district.

These petty uprisings have to be put down. They cost money and they cost lives; but the army is there for that purpose—to police the country. It is also there to hold the islands against those outside nations that would fain have the Philippines for their own. Along with the petty risings which never cease is also the trouble arising out of the desire of the native, fostered by some busybodies at home, to govern himself. That he is unfit to govern himself is a matter of little consequence to the philanthropists who are anxious to let the islands slip away, ultimately one may be sure, into the hands of Japan.

Verily "the white man's burden" is not light and the yoke of empire is not easy. The "lesser breeds without the law" are by no means easy to govern and the oriental mind is difficult to be understood by the occidental. The Filipino along with native indolence acquired the "manana" habit of the Spaniard. He learned that it was the sign of the gentleman to do no work and thus despised the laborer. It has been difficult to teach him otherwise and to this day the native looks upon the system of peonage as a desirable thing for the islands, provided always, of course, that he is not the peon.

Were the United States ever to give up the islands a consummation which, improbable as it seems, is yet not impossible nor even unlikely in some of this country's national moods, then they would immediately revert to the old system that prevailed in the time of Spain's dominion or else they would have applied to them the thorough system of the Japanese, who look on the islands as an easy prey. In that case the last state of the unhappy islanders would be worse than the first.

As a matter of prestige the United States can never and should never give up the islands. This country has expended on the islands many millions of dollars for water systems, roads and schools. American capital has been invested in the islands to a very large extent and that would be entirely lost in the event of an evacuation by the United States. It is inconceivable, in spite of some talk to that effect, that the United States would ever give up its Philippine possessions and every year the American rule is continued such an event fortunately becomes more and more an impossibility.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE A SUCCESS

Notwithstanding the defeat of woman suffrage in several eastern states during the past week, there can be no doubt that where women have votes they have made excellent use of that right. Local, state and federal officials in states of the Union having full or partial suffrage for women unite in testifying that the result of woman suffrage has been most beneficial. Opponents of woman suffrage have been in the habit of arguing that good women would stay away from the polls and that none but the irresponsible classes would exercise the privilege of voting. That theory has been entirely exploded by the experience of California. The good women in this state not only go to the polls and exercise the franchise, but they exercise it with intelligence.

All the women's clubs of California study public questions as they have never done before. It is also invariably the case that the women are always on the right side of any moral question and they are very much more likely than men to consider the moral effect of proposed legislation rather than the political effect. It is also certain that the women of California have shown no tendency toward revolutionary methods in government.

In adjoining states, such as Oregon, observation shows a similar condition. Women in the western states where woman suffrage exists have been given the right to vote as a matter of simple justice. The women themselves have assumed the right to vote on public affairs in a quiet, rational and modest manner that has at once dissipated the oft asserted idea that they could not use this right without a sacrifice of their womanly qualities.

Woman's presence in politics has tended to purify and elevate the citizenship and politics of California. The women of California have met their voting obligations in a degree that is highly commendable and to the best interests of the state and the nation.

In short, wherever women have obtained the right to vote they have been on the side of law and order. They have assisted in bringing about much needed reforms. They have purified politics to a great extent and have stood for greater efficiency in the conduct of public business. It has been greatly owing to the women's influence that the commission form of government has been introduced in many cities, with the result that civic business is transacted on business principles; that prison reform has been fostered and enforced; that needless expenditures in the purchase of civic supplies have been cut down; that laws have been put in force that were formerly evaded and that candidates for public office have been elected who stand for moral uplift and enforcement of law.

With such a record to their credit women have every right to point to what they have achieved as an argument for the extension of the franchise to their sex in every state of the Union. It is, therefore, not too much to assume that those eastern states which recently rejected the proposed extension of the franchise to women will revise that verdict at some time in the early future.

REHABILITATING OLD BEAVER GROUNDS

In their insane lust for profit the early trapper and settler almost exterminated the beaver. That interesting and profitable animal has enemies enough, and to spare, without having the worst of all—man—added to the list. However, the white man came, and where the Indian killed ten beavers he killed 100. It was not long in this way before the poor beaver was almost reduced to a few stray colonies in more remote sections of different states.

Efforts have been and are being made to introduce the golden beaver (Castor subauratus) into lower Yosemite Valley. The Fish and Game Commission will endeavor to transplant several of those animals from the Cache Slough district of Solano county to the Yosemite. In the National Park they will doubtless receive careful protection and as conditions there are ideal the animals should increase rapidly and thus reoccupy a place long since depopulated by the trapper.

Should this experiment prove successful other transplantations will doubtless be made. Oregon has already obtained marked success in starting new colonies in different parts of that state. Reduced to very small numbers here in California five years ago, the beaver is now on the increase, and if the proper protection is given, the animal will doubtless re-establish itself in all favorable localities in the state.

That Britain is seriously disturbed by recent war developments in the Balkan states is seen in the dispatch of Lord Kitchener to the Near East. Should the German-Austro-Bulgar forces succeed in getting into Constantinople the British would have to defend their great empire in Egypt and India, while the result of the holding of Constantinople by the central allies would materially shift the balance of European power and result in a prolonged continuance of the present hostilities. What the great organizer of Egypt and the Soudan can do remains to be seen, but it is certain that his efforts will be directed toward greater efficiency and organization in the allied campaign in the Balkans.

BARACAS TO MEET

It is expected that there will be a large attendance at the meeting of the Baraca society of the First Methodist Episcopal church, which will be held in the Social hall of the church, Monday night. The growing interest that is being taken in this society is likely to be augmented by the plans which will be discussed tonight.

Y. P. B. MEETING

Important matters will be brought before the meeting of the Young People's Branch of the W. C. T. U. of Glendale, which takes place Tuesday evening, Nov. 9, at the home of Lawrence Rowe, 516 Orange street. Miss Vivian Engle, the president will preside and a full attendance of the members is desired.

NORTH GLENDALE

Among the most interesting social affairs of the past week was that with which Miss Lois Hunt of 1201 Viola Avenue entertained a number of her friends last Friday evening. The autumn motif was carried out in the beautiful floral decorations. Gorgeous yellow chrysanthemums and autumn leaves were arranged in a charmingly artistic manner throughout the various rooms of the attractive home. The features of entertainment that were enjoyed during the evening consisted of progressive games, hearts being especially popular. Also vocal and instrumental music was rendered, there being among the guests several well known local musicians who contributed to the entertainment of the evening. A delicious luncheon was served at the small tables and Miss Hunt was assisted in entertaining by her sister, Miss Mary Hunt. The guests who enjoyed the delightful occasion included the Misses Evelyn Kent, Besie Wright, Mabel Sanford, Helen Wright, Mabel Salisbury, Hazel Wood, Mary Circle, Vera McPherson, Maud Salisbury of Glendale and the Misses Ruth Ryan, Martha Howe, Hazel Harrington of Los Angeles and Messrs. Frank Parsons, Glenn Wood, James Wolfe, Newton Van Wye, Percy Bowne, Harold Salisbury, Harold McElroy, and Clyde Downing of Glendale and William Ooley, Clark Ryan, Mr. Gillispie and Dr. Young of Los Angeles, also Mr. and Mrs. Earle Daniels of Eagle Rock.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Townsend of 634 North Louise Street entertained with a beautifully appointed full course one o'clock dinner on Sunday. The chosen motif was yellow. Beautiful fuzzy chrysanthemums from the hostess's garden were used in the living rooms and also were in evidence on the charmingly arranged table where covers were laid for six, their guests including Mr. and Mrs. Durrell Draper of Long Beach and Mr. and Mrs. A. Bradley of Venice.

Mr. E. A. Josselyn of 315 Rowan Avenue, Belvedere Heights, motored to North Glendale last Sunday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Benfield of 1641 Ruth Street motored to Los Angeles last Friday spending the day in the city with friends.

Mr. George Young and family have returned from Redlands, Cal., where Mr. Young has been in business for the past year, and are now located on North Central Ave. near Dryden St.

Mr. and Mrs. William Alston of 1334 Valley View Road entertained as their guests at dinner last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. George Dewey and son Donald of Arden avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Hunt and daughters the Misses Lois and Mary of 1201 Via avenue motored to Gardena last Sunday where they were guests for the day of Mrs. Hunt's uncle and family Mr. George Cudebec of that place.

Mr. Tom Osborn has leased his attractive bungalow home at 1095 San Rafael street to Los Angeles parties and with his family has moved to Los Angeles where they will remain during the winter months.

TROPICO

There is much speculation rife relative to the play to be given in G. A. R. hall, Wednesday evening, under the auspices of the Tropico Thursday club and under the able direction of Mrs. Wayland Brown. The play, "Si Slocum's Grocery and Postoffice," offers ample opportunity for the portrayal of Frank Davis' store and all of the cast of characters includes the best of local talent, who endeavor in a most clever manner to represent a number of Tropico's leading citizens. Mrs. Brown, who is reserving a number of surprises and local hits, which will be sprung Wednesday evening, has been persuaded to give a partial list of the cast of characters and whom they represent. Those familiar with Tropico can readily select the ones Miss Brown is depicting so cleverly. Si Slocum, owner of the grocery and postmaster, A. J. Van Wie; Charlie Hardback and Joe Spence, cracker box loungers in Si's store, Wayland Brown and John H. Seaman; Bruce King, an up-to-date autoist, Harry Hayward; the tramp, Ed. Shipman; Joe Hubbard, the town actor, Dwight Stephenson; Dr. Camomile, George Howe; town marshal, Noble Ripley; Tillie Slocum, assistant postmistress, Mrs. John Seaman; Mrs. Abbie Sparker, president of the Woman's Club, Miss Esther Jones; Lillie Dotts, Miss Sayre; Miss Dora Flickman, member of the Woman's club, Miss Viola Sayre; Mabel Normand, moving queen, Mrs. A. J. Van Wie. No doubt Mrs. Brown deemed this partial list sufficient to elicit vast interest and speculation as to who are the remainder of the cast and whom of Tropico's citizens will they represent. By over-persuading Mrs. Brown may be induced to give the full cast of characters.

The Tropico Concert Band has come to stay! A permanent organization has been effected and much interest is manifested not only by the participants, but by the citizens of this city, who, since having assumed the responsibility of an incorporated town, have long felt the need of a real live wide-awake band. The Tropico Concert Band, which holds rehearsals every Friday evening in the City Hall, gives promise of filling a long felt want. Prof. George Isbell of Los Angeles is the efficient director. Merrill Burke is assistant director, also secretary and treasurer; Robert Danner, manager; George Van Hazelen, librarian; Berna Martin, official tooter; Landon C. Haynes and Dr. O. P. Lucas, first cornets; Merrill Burke and George Hazelen, solo cornets; Arthur McAdams, Francis Bacon, Levitt Goddard and Will Kirkham, clarinets; Louis Lomberton and Berna Martin, first alto; James Frazer, Morris Burke and William Shein, baritone; Arthur Fryer and Edward Moniot, trombone; Robert Danner, bass horn; Newman Lamberth, snare drum; O. Emmons Burch, bass drum.

At the preliminary meeting held Friday evening many plans were discussed relative to the proposed second annual road race which will be held in Tropico Thanksgiving Day, beginning at 9:30 in the morning. The auto committee consists of Wayland Chapman, manager; A. J. Van Wie, treasurer; Mrs. Margaret T. Hanshin, secretary. The events scheduled will be motorcycle races, cyclecars and a free for all auto race. The course as outlined will be two miles, and as the streets are in most excellent condition the same route as that taken last year has been decided upon. Starting point will be on San Fernando boulevard, between Tropico and Central avenues. Four hundred dollars will be given away in prizes. A large number of entries gives encouragement to the committee and augurs a success for this holiday sport.

Again has Tropico cause to be proud of her fire department, of which J. William Gould is the efficient fire chief. It took the department just seven minutes to get the fire under control, Friday night, when Frank Finapisu's grocery and hotel was discovered on fire. The Glendale department, which is always alert to any calls from their sister city, aimed to lend aid if needed. The third line of hose was doing vallant work, but they, like loyal citizens they are, remained and assisted. Chief Gould and his men are receiving the congratulations upon their quick and effective work. Frank Jones' house, adjoining the burning grocery, was discovered to be on fire, but the flames were quickly extinguished. The damage done the grocery was from water.

Miss Eva M. Dutton, one of the musical directors at Polytechnic High in Los Angeles, left for San Diego Monday morning, where she will spend the week attending the Southern California Teachers' Institute.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Augustus of West Tropico avenue have been entertaining as their house guests the past week, their nephew and his wife, Dr. and Mrs. C. B. Camerer, the former of whom is surgeon in the U. S. Navy. Dr. Camerer has been stationed the past two years and a half on Mare Island. Recently he has been transferred to the naval ship "Iris," which at present is stationed at San Diego.

Charles E. Patterson of Paloma avenue is spending the week in San Diego attending the Southern California Teachers' Institute.

Mr. and Mrs. Ashbury Wade, 224 W. Tenth street, Tropico, entertained in honor of Mr. Wade's cousin from Indiana, Mrs. Ruth Chanler and Miss Hannah Carr, her friend. A very pleasant evening was spent with music and cards. Dainty refreshments were served. The rooms were decorated with yellow and white chrysanthemums and the tables were also beautifully decorated in the same color scheme. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. E. U. Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Hill and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fuller, all of Los Angeles, and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hillman of Tropico.

Watch this paper for a full printed program of that meeting to be held next Sunday at 6 p. m. at the Baptist Church of Glendale. It is going to be one of the best meetings ever held in Glendale.

The Herald of Better Service

IN the arena of "Big Business" has appeared a new steel-brained champion, the Master-Model of the Royal—the machine with the rapid-fire action; the typewriter that fires letters as an automatic gun spits bullets!

Unless you are "Royalized," you are paying the price of the Royal without knowing it—besides that of your old-style machine—in the higher cost of your business letters.

Built for "Big Business" and its Great Army of Expert Operators

This master-machine does the work of several typewriters in one—it writes, types cards and bills! The one machine does it all—without any "special" attachments.

Get the Facts!

Send for the "Royal man" and ask for a DEMONSTRATION. Investigate the new machine that takes the "grind" out of typewriting. Or write us direct for our new brochure, "BETTER SERVICE," and book of facts on Touch Typing—with a handsome Color-Photograph of the new Royal Master-Model 10, sent free to typewriter users. ## SUNLAND AND LITTLELANDS

Mr. D. C. Dean had a peanut vine on exhibition at his store one day this week, that had a vast number of nuts attached, just as he had pulled it from the ground. A field of such plants would make a valuable source of income.

Miss Moneta Hughes has just recovered from an attack of quinsy. Miss Wilde of San Francisco, who with her parents formerly resided in Sunland, is spending a couple weeks visiting Miss Moneta Hughes.

The members of the C. E. Society of Littlelands were entertained by the Sunland Endeavorers last Tuesday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Shiras were the chaperones of the occasion.

Mrs. J. T. Ward Entertains

Mrs. J. T. Ward very pleasantly entertained the ladies of the Federation, at her pretty home on San Ysidro road, last Thursday afternoon. The afternoon was devoted to needlework and the friendly discussion of the affairs of the Federation and the colony. The hostess served refreshments at the close of the afternoon.

Friday Evening Round Table

The display of products last Friday evening was quite a creditable one for Littlelands, considering the length of time for preparation. The time is too short for any considerable showing of fruit as yet. Mr. Hough had some very large Hubbard squash. Mr. Slusher brought a sugar beet that was fully thirty inches long. Mrs. Hoffman had on exhibit some very nice potatoes that had been planted only six weeks before. They were not very large but of uniform size and showed that good potatoes can be raised in this place. Mrs. Pond brought some large sugar pears and Mr. Martinson had persimmons, pomegranates and apples. Mrs. Darling had a citron that had had no cultivation, yet it weighed nineteen pounds. She also had on display some bug-proof squashes. Mrs. Haverstick had a carrot pie which she said was much less trouble to make than pumpkin pie and she thought much better. There was the usual display of pumpkins, onions, carrots, potatoes, etc., with canned fruit of various kinds that usually obtain at such exhibits. There was a flash-light picture taken of the scene by Mr. Lawson.

Mr. Maxwell occupied about an hour with his lecture. He began with a quotation from Kipling—The strength of the wolf is in the pack, and the strength of the pack is in the wolf. So, said Mr. Maxwell, the strength of the individual is in the community and the strength of the community is in the individual. He told of the partnership he had formed with a young lad, in the cultivation of a fifty-foot vacant lot. At the end of five years or such a matter the boy will have acquired not only a valuable knowledge of gardening which will benefit him, but he will have formed habits of thrift and industry and will understand how to go at anything he undertakes in a systematic and businesslike manner. Besides this he will have acquired some financial remuneration. Some foreigner has made the statement that the American boy is a loafer. If, said Mr. Maxwell, this is true, it is largely because of our system of living. Nowadays there are no chores for the lad to perform but perchance he must spend all his leisure in the public playground, or at the movies, both of which are well enough in their way, but if instead of the system of public playgrounds that are provided there were provided work for each child there would be no room for such an accusation as the above.

The object of all education is the training of the mind to think. And the cultivation of flower and vegetable garden is one of the most pleasurable as well as beneficial means to this end. Gardening develops the creative instinct, therefore among the first duties of those having the charge of children is the duty of training them to cultivate the land and their training should go along with their other lessons. The goal for Americans should be an average standard of living, with no rich class and no poor class. That which benefits all eventually benefits the individual. England with her class distinction has reared a lot of sports who lack true patriotism at this crisis in her history. Mr. Maxwell says that nothing has been of more interest to him than helping to forward such work as the Littlelanders are attempting. The commissioner of gardens for Los Angeles said he was as proud of the establishing of gardens in the school curriculum as though he had signed the declaration of independence. Though there may be, and no doubt will be, many failures in the attempts made in Littlelands, yet, after all, "failures are but the stepping stones to success."

The burden of her plea was that the ideals of right and of brotherly love are so different in India from what they are in America or in any land where Christianity has gone, that they need to be changed, and the people in that benighted land given a different viewpoint.

TO SEE LIBERTY BELL

Mrs. A. Chase the chairman of Patriotism for the Federation of P-T. A. has used every means to persuade the transportation officials of the Pacific Electric Company to grant a reduced fare to the 600 school children who will want to go to Los Angeles next Monday to see the Liberty Bell. The officials refuse to grant the request but have promised to run special cars at 8:15 and 8:30 and 8:45. The trains will be run through to San Pedro street and the children will march to 7th street and view the parade as it passes east.

Have you read that article that has appeared in this paper four times about the great meeting to be held next Sunday? If you haven't read it, do so at once. The Young People of the Tropico, Casa Verdugo and Glendale churches are busy this week getting ready for it, and they extend a most cordial invitation to everyone to attend, young and old. Glendale Baptist Church at 6 p. m., Nov. 14.

The universal statement since Saturday is "The rain was just what we needed."

Sillicus—Scientists claim that a woman's mind is more apt to succumb to great mental strain than a man's.

Cynicus—Yes; I suppose this constant changing of anything will wear it out.—London Opinion.

lands, Riverside, Colton, and other towns in this section of the state. On the platform with Elder Daniells were Elders F. M. Burg, professor of Biblical exegesis at the College of Medical Evangelists, L. R. Conradi, of Hamburg, Germany, president of the European Division Conference; S. N. Haskell, of South Lancaster, Mass.; J. N. Loughborough, of Lodi, Cal.; R. C. Porter, of Shanghai, China, president of the Asiatic Division; W. F. Martin, of Santa Ana, Cal., president of the Southeastern California Conference and Prof. Frederick Griggs, of Washington, D. C., who led the music.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

An unusual service was that of last evening, when Miss Eva Clarke, a native missionary from India, delivered the address in native Hindu garb and held the attention of her auditors in closest attention. Although brought up in India by a Hindu mother, Miss Clarke has a most excellent use of the English language, and uses it with great force to bring home the need of Christianizing India.

The feeding station continues to exist at the corner of Broadway and Kenwood. Why not Glendale business men get permission to occupy the public streets and save rent.
